

Do I have to invite companies when I have a Procore integration?

No, when using the Procore integration, the companies you already have on Procore for the site will automatically be added to TIKS Records. However, you will have to manually invite a Company Administrator for each of the synced companies from Procore.

When TIKS is integrated with Procore, all companies in that project's Directory will come across to TIKS under the Records tile.

Due to the integration, Contractors Companies MUST be invited to your project in Procore first. Once the new company is added, it will be synced and appear in TIKS under the Records tile.

Contractor Companies cannot be added directly into TIKS when Procore integration is turned on.
